

ABOUT KUNCHOK

Kunchok (Dharma name) was brought up in a conventional Buddhist family and began her spiritual journey at a young age under the guidance of her religious mother.

Upon finishing her secondary schooling, she seized on the opportunity to pursue Buddhist philosophy at the Central University of Tibetan Studies (CIHTS) in Varanasi, India. In addition, she studied English and Tibetan literature, poetry, Tibetan history, political science, and the Sanskrit language there.

After obtaining a bachelor's degree from CIHTS, she went on to study Buddhist studies at Delhi University. Apart from studying Buddhism, Kunchok also completed a degree in English and French literature.

She is working as an interpreter/translator for an independent association.

As of 2017, Kunchok has been volunteering as the personal secretary of Venerable Dupseng Rinpoche, aiding him in his dharma activities.

